LONDON DOCK

Living and learning

FOR YOUNG MINDS, LONDON DOCK MEANS ACCESS TO WORLD-LEADING INDEPENDENT SCHOOLS, COLLEGES AND UNIVERSITIES ACROSS THE CAPITAL.

Not only does London Dock offer a spectacular location close to the River Thames and the heart of the City of London, it offers a wealth of learning opportunities for those who live there.

There are welcoming nurseries and pre-schools within walking distance and excellent primary schools. For older children, highly rated secondary schools are nearby, while London's world-class colleges and universities are within easy reach.

A home in London Dock means a choice of traditional or progressive schools and an academic or vocational education. It means the pick of some of London's leading schools, and of some of the world's most prestigious colleges and universities. It can mean finding the best educational facilities to build character and confidence, a love of learning – and to prepare the next generation with the skills they need to succeed in life.
