Fish Island Village is a thriving, creative hub, set in the heart of Hackney Wick. This vibrant canalside neighbourhood offers everything you need for modern living, with a collection of stylish 1, 2 & 3 bedroom apartments, innovative workspaces and picturesque courtyards.

It's the ideal place to live, work and play. By day, stroll along the water's edge and soak up the creative energy and by night, sample delicious street food and socialise in one of the local bars, which are all within walking distance.

Halo Building consists of 1, 2 & 3 bedroom apartments and is facing the canal, as well as being close to the bustling Lofthouse Square, which is the social hub of this energetic community.

A VIBRANT CANALSIDE COMMUNITY

This exciting new waterside community captures the creative vibe of this bohemian part of London and has the true spirit of Fish Island at its core. Building on the area's legacy, the village fuses traditional industrial architecture with forward-thinking design. The overarching vision, of creating a sustainable and supportive environment for all that live here, is being realised.

The inclusive nature of the village combined with the lively atmosphere makes it a place where you can be yourself and feel inspired to be the best you can be.

Halo Building consists of modern apartments and commercial space to the ground floor. The building faces the canal, so many of the apartments will offer canalside views and all of the apartments have a private balcony, providing outdoor space for entertaining.

The apartments that face Neptune Yard will benefit from an intimate setting, while the inward facing workspaces, which are run by The Trampery, will be aimed at inspirational creators and makers.

The architecture has been designed to differentiate from the two buildings either side, using a dark brick, tall glazing and jettied balcony details to maximise light into each home.

BE INSPIRED BY ALL THAT'S AROUND YOU

High quality homes, shared courtyards and workspaces combine to offer the perfect work/life balance. You'll find something new around every corner of this evolving community. Inspired by concrete and brick warehouse buildings, these traditional wharf-style apartments spill out on to public plazas to relax and unwind in.

Fish Island Village has been brought to life by a team of architects and designers. Lead architects and Stirling Prize-winners, Haworth Tompkins, designed the apartment blocks around the courtyard area and the canal-facing buildings.

Graham Haworth and Ken Okonkwo of Haworth Tompkins had a clear vision for the project: "We didn't want to change the character of the area, we wanted to enhance it," says Graham. "The vision was to tap into the industrial heritage of Fish Island and the creative workspace legacy that's so poignant in the area. There are a lot of artist studios and interesting creative factory spaces already in existence and we felt this was a great opportunity to create a vibrant mixed-use development that is true to its roots. Lots of schemes in London are one-dimensional, but this scheme has so many layers that overlap and intermingle. We wanted to reinforce the DNA of Fish Island and create a proper place for people to live, work and socialise."

Halo Building has been designed with the local area in mind, retaining robust structures and using materials that can be seen throughout Fish Island. Ken says: "There is a tendency to add superfluous complexity to building facades, but we wanted the simplicity of the design to shine through. The buildings are timeless and there's a calm rhythm that runs across the scheme. We have created a really robust and solid framework for residents and the community to make their own."
