FUN FACT

Did you know Peckham is home to a number of annual events including Peckham Festival, Peckham & Nunhead Free Film Festival and Pexmas – our very own mini Christmas fest!

Bustling, diverse, authentic

Peckham is much more than on-the-up – it's positively at the top of its game.

We think Peckham Place will become part of Peckham's urban landscape – in other words, it'll be as much a part of Peckham as M.Manze's Pie & Mash shop. And you can be part of it too.

Quirky and cultural

Peckham's a great place to be right now – after all, it recently topped the Sunday Times' list of the best places to live in London.*

We think Peckham has a unique feel, with an unbeatable spirit and a relaxed welcoming vibe. At the same time, it's full of energy, excitement and diversity. Take time to discover Rye Lane Market with its exotic fruit stalls or head to Bellenden Road for cool boutiques, cafés and quirky restaurants.

Peckham is also home to two of the most iconic rooftop venues in London. Enjoy a cocktail and awesome London skyline views at Frank's, on the top floor of a multi-storey car park (yes, car park!), or sit back and enjoy a summer's evening screening at the Bussey Building's rooftop cinema.

If sourdough bread is your thing, you'll find some of the best in the country at Peckham's Brick House Bakery & Bar. Their signature Peckham Rye loaf is just one of the reasons they were recently named one of the best bakeries in Britain by The Telegraph. You can even try your hand at making your own at their Dulwich bakery's 'Sourdough in a day' class.

FUN FACT

It is said that Peckham was listed as 'Pecheham' in the Domesday Book of 1086, and later became 'Pekham'. There is some argument over the meaning of the name, with one translation claiming 'homestead by a peak or hill', and others preferring 'the place of the river Peck'.

Peckham Rye Common

Green open space isn't far away either. Peckham Rye Park & Common is the perfect spot for recreation and relaxation, with a Japanese garden, landscaped parks, wooded areas, playgrounds and football pitches.

As you would expect, all of life's essentials are nearby – from shops and schools to stations and surgeries. This is Peckham though, which means there's always something a little different on offer. From crazy golf to the South London Gallery, there's never a dull moment here.

Rye Wax

Fitness fanatics and those looking to improve their well-being won't need to look any further than The Yard, Peckham's favourite cross fit gym. Increase your strength and endurance through The Yard's functional cross fit workouts, which can be scaled to suit anyone, of any fitness level.

Down in the basement of Peckham's Bussey Building you'll find Rye Wax – described by Time Out as "far more than just a record shop." Alongside an Aladdin's cave of vinyl and CDs, Rye Wax also doubles up as a bar, Vietnamese street food café and venue with regular live gigs.

Authentic and eclectic

Peckham may be one of the most fashionable places to live in London right now, but it's not just for the cool hipsters – families are spoilt for choice too.

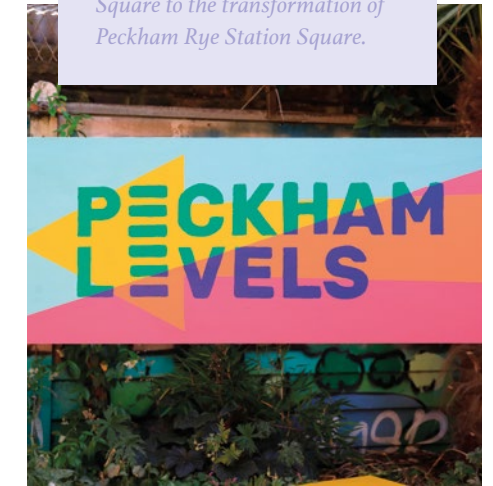

With a good selection of nurseries, both 'good' and 'outstanding' Ofsted-rated state primary and secondary schools, plus several private school options nearby, parents can have confidence in local education choices. As you would expect in such a dynamic neighbourhood, there are plenty of leisure activities on your doorstep for the whole family to enjoy.

A visit to Peckham Pulse will help keep you in tip-top condition, where you can take a swim, join a fitness class or work out at the gym – plus there's a soft play area to keep the kids happy.

FUN FACT

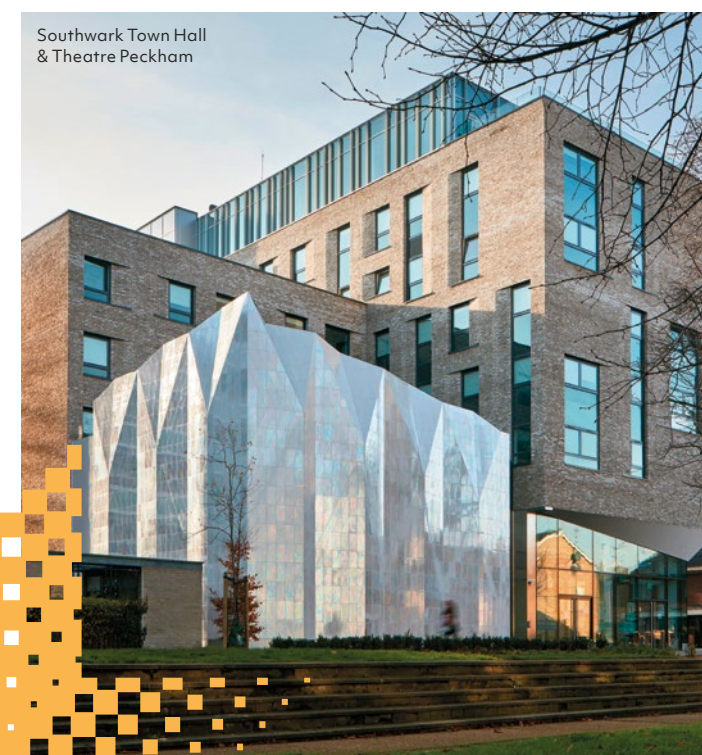

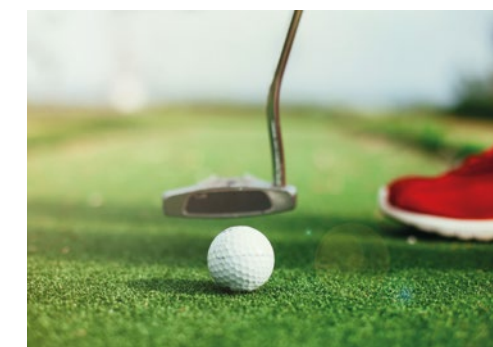

You'll see energetic regeneration everywhere you turn, from the reshaping of Peckham Library Square to the transformation of Peckham Rye Station Square.

If the tranquillity of yoga is more your thing, Yogarise is a friendly yoga studio based in the iconic Bussey Building with classes for all abilities.

Enjoy the latest blockbuster film at Peckhamplex cinema – famous for its bargain ticket prices, or browse the shelves of bestsellers at the award-winning Peckham Library, where they also run free Rhyme Time sessions for under 5s.

For something a little different, perfect your swing at Plonk – a tropical themed mini-golf course in the heart of creative Peckham Levels; or take a break from the bustle and feel closer to nature at the Centre for Wildlife Gardening.
